Fallon cleared after case is thrown out

BY Jack Grove
Email: editorial @newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

CHAMPION jockey Kieren Fallon has been cleared of a motoring offence after hiring a lawyer known as "the motorist's friend".

The 42 year old appeared at Ely Magistrates' Court on Tuesday after his BMW was clocked doing 40mph in a 30mph zone in Milton Road, Cambridge, last May.

But while it was accepted another person was driving that day, Mr Fallon faced a charge of failing to provide police with information about the driver's identity within the required 28-day limit.

Prosecutors claimed he failed to answer two letters, dated May 23 and June 26, informing him about the speeding charge before he eventually responded on August 22.

But Mr Fallon employed one of Britain's top lawyers in traffic laws, Manchester-based Warren Bergson to fight the allegations.

Mr Bergson, who calls himself "the motorist's friend", pointed out a number of minor administrative errors in the handling of the case.

He argued the evidence against Mr Fallon was unreliable due to the police's failure to explain the flow of paperwork at Cambridgeshire Safety Camera Partnership offices.

He claimed there were a series of flaws in the system, which could explain why Mr Fallon's reply did not make it on to the computer database.

■ COURT DATE. . . champion jockey Kieren Fallon employed a top lawyer

He said: "I do not need to say how many times Government bodies with supposedly fool-proof systems get it horribly wrong.

"The Crown must prove he failed to respond – all they have produced is evidence that someone looked at a screen and there was a blank there."

He cross-examined Cambridgeshire police's top safety camera operator, Christopher Northrop, for more than 30 minutes, saying that Mr Northrop's answers revealed a number of minor administrative discrepancies which he said discredited the prosecution.

Among the loopholes were an incorrect date on the reminder letter and the use of police national computer records, which are not in accordance with the Road Traffic Act.

Mr Bergson concluded: "We have heard of a very sorry tale of mix-ups in the office, a culture that frankly shows disrespect to defendants."

Mr Fallon, of The Severals, Newmarket, was not asked to take the stand after magistrates threw out the case, pointing to "particular discrepancies" which made the evidence was unreliable.

Tuesday's case was Mr Fallon's latest brush with the legal system after his trial for alleged race-fixing collapsed spectacularly at the end of last year.

The millionaire jockey's trial had run for two months, but Mr Fallon and five other men were acquitted by an Old Bailey jury on the directions of trial judge Mr Justice Forbes, who said there was no case to answer.

■ Last week, TV presenter Robin Page was cleared of speeding at Ely Magistrates' Court after police blunders meant his speeding charge notice arrived six weeks after the alleged incident, making it impossible for him to remember who was driving when his car was caught by a speed camera in Peterborough last year.

Pub landlord steps in to save bikers' show

BY Jack Grove
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

A POPULAR motorbike festival has been saved by a pub landlord.

The future of Soham Bike Show later this month was in doubt when their original venue, the Soham Lodge Hotel, closed suddenly recently.

The closure left organisers of the show desperately trying to contact the hotel's management to see if it could go ahead.

The show attracts more than 400 bikers each year.

But like other customers with bookings, they faced a wall of silence as managers failed to return their calls or even reveal the identity of the new owners.

Luckily, Cherry Tree landlord Martin Whitehouse offered his premises to the bike show, which will see live music, bike displays and overnight camping in a field next to the pub in Fordham Road.

Bike show organiser Brian Johnson said: "Cancelling the show would have been a nightmare.

"We had already distributed hundreds of flyers and put up all the posters when the Soham Lodge closed, so we would have needed to let everyone know it was not happening.

"It would be awful to have bikers turning up to the hotel and finding it wasn't on.

"We have also raised a lot of money for Magpas at previous shows, so it's good news for them that it is taking place.

"The Cherry Tree has everything we need.

"The custom bike show will take place in the back field and they also have a bandstand for the five bands that we have booked on the day."

Mr Whitehouse said: "The bike show was in jeopardy, so my son Steve got in touch to see if they wanted to use our pub.

■ SHOW GOES ON . . . bike show organiser Cedric Martin, delighted at the new venue. CP.

"They didn't know if the hotel was going to reopen, but we are very happy to help them out.

"If it's a success, then maybe it will become an annual event at the Cherry Tree."

Cedric Martin, one of the show's organisers, said: "It was looking a bit bleak for the show, so it's great that we have found another venue.

"The grounds are a bit smaller, but we will have around 400 people there and plenty of live music from bands.

"We didn't know what was happening when the hotel closed, so it's fantastic the show is now going ahead."

The Soham Bike Show will take place on Sunday, May 25, between 10am and 11pm.

Admission costs £4 or £5 with camping, with any funds raised going to Magpas, the volunteer lifesaving charity.

For more information, telephone (01353) 624568 or (01353) 624374.

Councillor quits to boost career

A COUNCILLOR has resigned after less than a year to concentrate on his professional career.

Steven James was elected unopposed to represent Red Lodge on Forest Heath District Council last May.

But Mr James, of White Lodge Stables, Warren Road, Kennett, said: "I was issued a licence to train racehorses in September and I really no longer have the time to be a councillor.

"If you are going to do the job (of councillor) properly you almost have to treat it like a full-time job."

He is the second councillor to stand down since last May's election.

Teacher Sue Syvret, another Conservative who represented Manor ward, stood down last autumn to concentrate on her career.

Her seat was won by Liberal Democrat Tim Huggan in a by-election in December.

The Conservatives control the council with 20 of the 27 seats.

Horse diseases to be debated

RACEHORSE trainers and breeders will be warned about two deadly horse diseases at a special seminar in Newmarket.

African Horse Sickness and West Nile Virus pose a threat in Britain because of climate change. Both can prove fatal and West Nile Virus can be transferred to – and kill – humans.

The seminar, called Emerging Equine Diseases, has been organised by the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association and The Horse Trust.

It will be staged at Tattersalls, the racehorse auctioneers, on Monday, June 23. Tickets are £30 and can be booked by visiting www.thetba.co.uk or calling the TBA on (01638) 661321.

Depressed mum hanged herself

A MOTHER of two children was depressed when she hanged herself, an inquest heard.

Angela Kerby was found dead at her mother's home in Willow Crescent, Newmarket.

Dr Peter Dean, Suffolk coroner, recorded a verdict that Mrs Kerby, 45, took her own life.

He said a post mortem examination showed that death was due to hanging and contributed to by depression.

"It is clear there had been difficulties in her private life with some depression following those difficulties," said Dr Dean. "It's not for inquests to point fingers of blame or look in anyway at aspects of fault."

He said that Pc Derek Gallagher, who was called to the house at 1.30pm on December 17, found a suicide note written in pencil on a small note pad in the kitchen.

Mrs Kerby, of Trinity Drive, Newmarket, had been staying with her mother Margaret Donald who discovered the body when she returned home from shopping.

Police name man killed in crash

A DRIVER killed when his car collided with a lorry on the A11 has been named by the police.
He was Mark Archer, 32, of Spindle Drive, Theftford.
His Citroen Saxo was in collision with a lorry at Icklingham, between Barton Mills and Elveden, just north of the B1112 junction at around 1.45am on Wednesday, April 23.
He was certified dead at the scene.
Anyone with information about the crash should call Pc Richard Godden, of the Bury St Edmunds roads policing unit, on (01284) 774100.

New race meeting

A NEW evening horse race meeting at Newmarket will raise money for the Animal Health Trust, based just outside the town.
The meeting, on May 15, is the first Thursday evening meeting to be staged at the town's Rowley Mile racecourse and will start the three-day spring fixture at Newmarket.
Stephen Wallis, managing director of Newmarket Racecourses, said: "Because this is a new addition to our programme, we thought it appropriate that the evening should benefit a charity which is both local and very important to the racing industry."
Under 16s will have free admission. Tickets can be booked by calling (01638) 675500.

Kirsten tops list

THE richest person in East Anglia is still Kirsten Rausing, according to The Sunday Times Rich List 2008.
The Newmarket-based race-horse breeder tops the region's list with a fortune that has grown by £675 million in the past year. She shares her wealth with brother Jorn.
Half the £7 billion value of the family packaging firm, Tetra Laval, is ascribed to her. The 55 year old is in 14th place in the national rich list, up one from 2007.
David and Richard Thompson, who own one of the world's top racehorse breeding companies, Cheveley Park Stud Farm in Newmarket, are third richest in the region with £503 million.

Baby unit boost

STUDENTS raised £430 for a special care baby unit by staging a fancy dress bucket collection and a Where's Wally contest.
Megan Flint, 16, from Newmarket, led the project at West Suffolk College, Bury St Edmunds, with Lianne Gray, 17, from Bury St Edmunds. Maria Johnson, 17, from Lakenheath, was among the students taking part in the fundraiser in aid of West Suffolk Hospital.
They raised more than double the amount they had hoped.

Treat for diners

TOP jockey Frankie Dettori and Hell's Kitchen chef Marco Pierre White will meet diners at "Frankie's Italian Bar and Grill" at the Guineas race meet at Newmarket on Sunday.
The pair, who run restaurants in London and Dubai, are offering a £90-a-head lunch package at the racecourse.
Last year all sittings at their restaurant, in a marquee at the racecourse, sold out. For booking details visit www.newmarketracecourses.co.uk or call the Newmarket box office on (01638) 675500.

Three men on a charity mission to Mongolia

THREE friends are gearing up for a gruelling 10,000-mile adventure – in a van they bought for £300.
The forklift driver, builder and computer engineer have called themselves the Red Lodge Rascals, after their 17-year-old Bedford Rascal and their home village.
Keith Gardner, 35, Nicky Parrott, 29, and Chris Reeves, 23, will be tackling the fifth Mongol Rally which leaves London on July 19. They hope to reach Ulaanbaatar, in Mongolia, by the end of August and raise more than £1,000 for charities supported by the rally, which has no set route. If they make it, their van and equipment will be auctioned to locals – along with all the other finishing vehicles – and the money will go to the charities, which include the Cambridge Mongolian Disaster Appeal.
Keith, of Blackberry Way, Red Lodge, said: "I have ridden a motor-bike to Africa and back and got a taste for adventure. Not a lot happens in Red Lodge and we decided we would enter the rally after talking about it in the pub."

Council to pay out after it admits maladministration

A COUNCIL has accepted it was guilty of maladministration in the way it handled a planning application by a councillor's son – and has handed compensation to two residents.

The Local Government Ombudsman said there was "an appearance of bias and favouritism" when Forest Heath District Council's planning committee approved a plan by James Waters, son of councillor Terry.

The decision was against the advice of council planning experts and was opposed by people living near the site, part of a designated wildlife area, in Beck Row.

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

All the councillors involved protested they had done nothing wrong when the council debated the Ombudsman's ruling at a special meeting last Thursday.

But the council voted by a majority to accept the Ombudsman's ruling and give an apology and £1,000 each to two women living near the site who lodged complaints.

Two of the councillors involved in the original planning decision now face a further investigation by the Standards Board for England.

They are John McGhee, the current vice-chairman of the council, who is expected to take over the chairmanship next month, and Robert Newman, now no longer a councillor after he did not seek re-election last year.

Mr Newman, who lives in Beck Row, told the meeting: "I am absolutely incensed by this report."

He urged the council to take further advice before accepting it. "We were not guilty of any offence," he said.

Cllr McGhee, who left the meeting after making a statement, said: "My conscience is clear. I did not collude with anyone. I do not fear or favour anyone. My nine years on the council have been spoiled by these false allegations."

Cllr Waters, who also made a statement before leaving on the advice of the council's chief executive, David Burnip, said he had no financial interest in his son's planning application and did not take part in the committee meetings where it was considered.

He said the Ombudsman's inference of bias was "positively outrageous and a great injustice to all the members sitting on that night".

But Mr Burnip said the finding was against the council as a whole and there was no appeal against it. Failure to accept it could mean the council losing its "good" authority status.

Teenager has mobile stolen

A GIRL'S mobile phone was stolen as she chatted to friends at a launderette.

A man grabbed the 13 year old's phone from a bench at the Clean Machine launderette in Exning Road, Newmarket, and ran off with it.

The man spoke to the girl briefly before snatching the phone between 4pm and 4.30pm last Tuesday.

He was described as white, in his late 30s, 6ft tall, of medium build, and with short light brown hair. He was wearing a dark blue polo shirt and smart black trousers.

Police said the area, on a main route through the town, would have been busy at the time with nearby schools finishing for the day.

Police want to hear from anyone who may have witnessed this theft or seen the man running from the launderette or in the nearby area. Anyone with information should call Pc Paula Gooch at Newmarket police on (01284) 774100.

Car fire may be arson

AN INCIDENT in which a car appeared to drive off on its own and burst into flames is now being investigated as arson.

The Vauxhall Cavalier was parked in George Lambton Avenue, Newmarket, when residents reported hearing the car alarm before seeing it travel about 50 yards without a driver.

It came to rest against a grass bank where it burned out before firefighters were able to extinguish the blaze.

Police initially said the incident appeared to have been caused by an electrical fault. Now, after receiving a report from a fire service investigator, they are investigating the incident as arson.

Renewed hope for Liam after long op

BY Jack Grove

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

CHAMPION fundraiser Liam Fairhurst has undergone nine hours of surgery in his latest battle with cancer.

The 13 year old had major lung surgery at Addenbrooke's Hospital to remove a tumour.

Liam's father Mark told the Weekly News Liam was unconscious for 24 hours following the operation.

Mark said: "I would like to thank the medical staff and the surgeon, Mr Samuels. The operation has gone well and hopefully marks the last of his cancer."

Liam's incredible fundraising efforts while battling cancer last year saw him hit the headlines across the country.

The Soham Village College pupil has raised an amazing £145,000 for cancer charity CLIC Sargent, with money continuing to pour into his appeal.

■ INSPIRATION . . . determined fundraiser Liam Fairhurst.

Picture: Warren Gunn 414988.

Karen Roberts, Community Fundraising Manager for CLIC Sargent in East Anglia said: "We are delighted to hear that Liam's operation went well and we send our best wishes to Liam and all his family."

His inspirational example has also seen him meet Gordon Brown, Princes William and Harry and Professor Stephen Hawking. The Prime Minister was so impressed with Liam that he even mentioned him in his Labour Party conference speech in September.

He also donated a bottle of whisky – autographed by the entire Cabinet – for Liam to auction online, with bidding now standing at £1,000.

Mr Brown said: "Liam is a fantastic young man who is constantly a great inspiration to others, and he continues to make a huge effort to improve life for other children with cancer."

Liam has also supported the campaign run by our sister paper, the Cambridge News, to raise £1 million for a specialist teenage cancer ward at Addenbrooke's. He is on a children's board that allows young people with experience as patients to have a say on £80 million plans for a world-class children's centre at Addenbrooke's.

It is hoped the hospital will rank alongside major centres such as Great Ormond Street in London and Alder Hey in Liverpool.

Man suffers facial injuries in gang attack

A MAN suffered a broken eye socket and other facial injuries when he was attacked by a group of youths.

The apparently unprovoked attack happened near Houldsworth Valley Primary School, in Rowley Drive, Newmarket, between 10pm and 10.30pm on Saturday.

The man, aged 32, was knocked down as he walked through an alleyway leading towards nearby Valley Way.

He later went to Addenbrooke's Hospital for treatment.

The gang, of four or five, were aged in their mid to late teens.

Anyone with information should call Pc Emma Harper on (01284) 774100.

Help save Joshua's eyesight

A GRANDMOTHER is raising money for pioneering treatment to help save her grandson's sight.

Jan Wilson has appealed to businesses, organisations and individuals to back the appeal in aid of her grandson Joshua, who was eight last week.

He has already lost one eye due to a rare cancer, diagnosed when he was 15 months old. Now he is undergoing special treatment in New York to try to save his remaining eye.

Ms Wilson, of George Lambton Avenue, Newmarket, said: "This little boy has been robbed of his childhood. Now we've got to give him the chance that he won't be robbed of his sight.

"It's a terrible disease. If this latest treatment doesn't work, he will lose his other eye. It's the only way they can stop the cancer spreading to his brain. If it does that it will kill him."

Joshua, who lives in Surrey with his parents Martin and Linda, has been featured in national papers and magazines and appeared on GMTV with Eamonn Holmes and Dr Hilary Jones. All treatments available in Britain under the NHS have been tried, and now his last hope of saving his sight rests with the treatment he is getting in the US.

There is funding for the first three treatments – at a cost of around £10,000 each – but the family have to pay their own travel and accommodation costs.

Donations can be made to the Joshua Wilson Fund by contacting Ms Wilson on 07817 238595 or emailing janwilson13@googlemail.com

Leisure facilities go to community trust

A CONTROVERSIAL new swimming pool – and the rest of Forest Health's leisure facilities – will be run by a new leisure trust.

A deal has been agreed which will see the management of all leisure facilities in the Forest Heath district – including the new swimming pool in Newmarket, which is nearing completion – passing from the district council to Anglia Community Leisure (ACL).

The much-delayed pool, which is being built as part of an extension to the leisure centre in Exning Road, has had a troubled history. Costs have risen to almost double the original estimate and are currently understood to be around £14 million.

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

The trust will have its offices in the new building.

ACL was to take charge from today, although it will initially be based in the district council's offices at Mildenhall. The pool development is not expected to be completed until late summer.

As well as the pool and leisure centre, the trust will also be responsible for running leisure centres in Mildenhall and Brandon as well as Mildenhall pool and the George Lambton playing fields in Newmarket.

It will also be in charge of community centres in Newmarket, Mildenhall and Brandon.

Councillor Geoffrey Jaggard, the council leader, said: "This move will mean long-term savings for Forest Heath District Council.

"The aim is for the trust to secure value for money for local taxpayers in providing leisure services, while having the interests of residents at heart when managing and seeking to improve the facilities."

ACL is a new charitable-based, not-for-profit community organisation set up to take over the district leisure services.

It has a voluntary 12-strong board of trustees recruited from local business and the community and is chaired by Richard Balfe, a retired civil servant and former Euro-MP who lives in Newmarket.

The transfer of responsibilities is the latest move of functions traditionally carried out by the council.

Housing was switched to Kings Forest Housing more than three years ago, and Council Tax collection and benefits are now handled by the Anglia Revenues Partnership.

Tony Bass, head of leisure at the district council, will be chief executive of the new trust and most of the council's leisure staff of around 50 full and contracted workers will transfer to the new trust.

It will also employ more than 100 casual staff who currently work for the council's leisure services.

The trust will receive a grant from the council towards its annual budget of around £1.2 million.

Council rejects pub's late-night licence bid

A PUB'S bid for a late licence has been rejected on the grounds that it could add to the town's "unacceptable" levels of current drunken violence.

Objections were lodged by the police and Newmarket Town Council to the application by the Orange House in Newmarket High Street.

Inspector Mark Larner, of Newmarket police, told Forest Heath District Council's licensing sub-committee: "We find ourselves stretched and I am desperately trying to say: 'enough is enough'."

Cllr Warwick Hirst, former Mayor of Newmarket, said: "The new licensing laws have led to a huge increase in drink-related crime.

"There were 81 crimes of violence in 2004-5 and 372 in 2006-7 – after the new licensing act came into operation.

"We say the current situation is unacceptable and we want to reduce drinking hours so residents can recover the town."

He said the High Street and town centre was regarded as a "no go" area by many residents at weekend nights when more than 2,000 revellers visit the town's pubs and nightclubs.

The 3D Entertainment Group, owners of the Orange House, had applied for an extension until 2am on Friday and Saturday from the current licensed hours of 12.40am.

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

But Jonathan Smith, solicitor for the firm, said the company had revised its application and was now asking for a licence until 1.30am with closing time at 2am. He said the company, which is planning a £110,000 revamp for the pub, would have accepted the licence for a three-month trial period.

"We are not asking for anything later than five or six premises in the town have not already got," he said.

But the three-member sub-committee, chaired by Cllr Marion Fairman-Smith, ruled that the application went against the council's Cumulative Impact policy introduced in January in a bid to tackle problems of drunken violence on the town's streets.

The district council has previously faced criticism for approving a licence for a filling station to sell alcoholic drinks, for consumption off the premises, for 24 hours on most days of the week.

It also came under fire for allowing the Wimpy burger restaurant to stay open until 1am – although the outlet does not sell alcoholic drinks.

■ TURNED DOWN . . . police were among those who objected to the application for a late licence for the Orange House in the High Street.

'Newbys' have no true understanding

Sir, The problems of Newmarket and its heritage stem in part from lack of perception.

Many of those who make statements about this subject are "newbys" with no real background in the area, and no true understanding of the importance of Newmarket historically.

They do not realise that the key importance of Newmarket is that it and its people set the standard for development worldwide, and frequently did the work which established it.

They cannot see how Newmarket has become so old-fashioned. They do not realise that places like Sha Tin and Dubai now represent the progress in the sport in which Newmarket has surrendered its supremacy.

Bin lorry was going too fast

A COUNCIL bin truck driver died after he lost control while overtaking another lorry near the end of his round.

BY John Goode
Email: editorial
@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

The new Forest Heath District Council dustcart smashed into a tree and driver Jeremy Bird died from multiple injuries, the inquest into his death heard.

The Mercedes truck was travelling at 56mph just before the crash, on the A1101 at Icklingham according to a tachograph reading reported by Pc Darren Sargent, who investigated the crash.

Dr Peter Dean, Suffolk coroner, said that although the speed limit for the road was 60mph, the lorry was exceeding its vehicle limit of 40mph – the speed that a road sweeper lorry it overtook was travelling.

He said the crash happened on a straight stretch of the road when the dustcart's wheels went onto a soft verge on the offside of the road causing Mr Bird, 47, of Centre Drive, Newmarket, to lose control.

Mr Bird and his passenger, Richard Shipp, had been emptying bins in Newmarket on the morning of the crash on Monday, November 26, last year.

They were due to make a further collection in Icklingham before tipping their load at the Lackford landfill site.

Mr Shipp was thrown out of the lorry in the impact, but he escaped serious injury.

Dr Dean recorded a verdict of accidental death on Mr Bird, a father of two children.

Mr Bird, known as Jez, had worked for the council for more than 20 years. He was a popular boys' football team coach and was born and brought up in Newmarket.

■ In a separate incident a bin man was struck and killed by a vehicle as he walked on a busy road in the dark, an inquest heard.

Other drivers had earlier called the police after having to swerve to avoid a man in dark clothing walking along the A1065 road near Mildenhall.

But when officers arrived at the scene they found that Kevin Flatt, 37, had died after being hit by an American Dodge four-wheel-drive vehicle.

The inquest at Bury St Edmunds heard Mr Hill did not realise what he had struck and stopped further up the road.

Dr Peter Dean, Suffolk coroner, recorded a verdict of accidental death on Mr Flatt, who died from a fractured skull, vertebral fractures and other broken bones.

He said a toxicology report showed Mr Flatt had 291mg of alcohol in 100ml of blood.

Take on stars of darts at Guineas

RACEGOERS at Newmarket will have the chance to play darts against former champions Eric Bristow and Keith Deller as well as watching the horses.

Bookmaker Stan James, which is sponsoring the Guineas race meeting at Newmarket this weekend, is also sponsoring the Stan James UK Legends and Punters' Trophy, which will feature the two top players.

Visitors have the chance of taking on the former champions, known as the Crafty Cockney and the Milky Bar Kid, to win an all-expenses paid trip to the Stan James World Matchplay Darts Championships in Blackpool in July.

To get involved, racegoers have to buy a StanJamesUK £30 package for either day's racing. The ticket gives access to the StanJamesUK village marquee where the darts is being staged.

It also includes betting vouchers worth £10, and refreshments. For booking details, call the racecourse box office (01638) 675500.

CARRIAGES RESTAURANT & BAR

Just open – and winning awards

CARRIAGES Restaurant and Bar at the Rutland Arms Hotel, Newmarket, has received a prestigious AA Rosette just one week after opening.

The new venue, which was officially launched on Tuesday, April 29 by Derek Thompson, local horse racing pundit and presenter on Channel 4 Racing, At The Races and talkSPORT radio, has been awarded the industry accolade for its modern European cuisine and use of high quality ingredients.

Located on the High Street, the launch of Carriages follows a refurbishment of the restaurant and bar area together with the appointment of a new management team. Stephanie Carvell, general manager of the Rutland Arms Hotel – which is part of the national Oxford Hotels & Inns portfolio – has been joined by recently appointed assistant manager, Vincent Maguire and restaurant manager, Kim Lockwood.

Stephanie Carvell says: "We are absolutely delighted to have been awarded an esteemed AA Rosette! Despite only just opening, Carriages is fast becoming the place to eat and drink in Newmarket. Fantastic food and drinks coupled with a charming courtyard for alfresco dining this summer makes it a great place for a range of occasions from business lunches to dinner with friends and family."

Starter dishes include ballontine of confit duck wrapped in Parma ham with onion jam and herb crostini and deep fried whitebait with cayenne and lemon crème fraiche. Main courses range from slow-braised lamb shank with gratin potatoes and minted pan juices to seafood linguine with hot garlic butter, pine nuts and fresh parmesan. To complete the dining experience, desserts include strawberry crème brulee with chef's orange shortbread, brioche bread and butter pudding with milk chocolate sauce and a selection of cheese boards.

The wine bar is open from 12pm daily and the restaurant is open 12pm-3pm and 7pm-9.30pm. For more information call (01638) 664251.

Glittering ball raises £30,000

In our weekly column, reporter JOHN GOODE takes a look behind the racing scene to bring you news from in and around the stables.

TOP names in the world of horse racing helped to raise more than £30,000 at a glittering ball staged at Newmarket's July Racecourse.

Money raised at the annual Guineas Ball will help buy a new four-wheel-drive vehicle for a doctor to use to tend riders injured on the gallops at Newmarket and other incidents around the town.

The ball, now in its 11th year, bought the current emergency vehicle – used by Dr Paul Silverston – in 2005 and aims to replace the vehicle every three years.

Some of the money will also go to the teenage cancer unit at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

Michelle Graham, a member of the Guineas Ball committee, said: "We're very happy with what was raised and we can still take donations now from Newmarket trainers who have not so far given their support."

The ball, staged in a big-top style marquee, had a Rock the Kasbah theme with sand on the floor, belly dancers and "camels".

The 500 guests included jockeys Frankie Dettori and Michael Hills, former Emmerdale and Dr Who actor Fraser Hines and Scotland and Manchester United footballer Willie Morgan.

There was a charity auction and guests had the chance to win a holiday in Dubai.

"It was great fun," said Ms Graham.

■ BOOK . . . Hayley Turner.

SOME of the best-known and less well-known racing personalities are featured in a new book.

Former minor counties cricketer John Carter shadowed jockeys Frankie Dettori and Hayley Turner as well as trainer Jeremy Noseda and other industry insiders for the book Newmarket – a Year at the Home of Horseracing.

The book is illustrated with photographs by Trevor Jones, who is also the subject of one of the profiles.

Others include bloodstock agent Tom Goff, curator of the National Horseracing museum Graham Snelling, stable girl Danni Deverson and stable lad Mark O'Reilly.

Mr Carter, who lives in Norfolk, will be signing copies of the book, published by SportsBooks priced at £19.99, at Tindall's bookshop in Newmarket High Street from 11am on Saturday.

He hopes to be joined by some of the people featured in the book.

Compensation sought for exposure to nuclear tests

BY John Goode
Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

A FORMER Navy serviceman who saw Britain's first nuclear bomb explode has joined a fight for Government compensation that could run to millions of pounds.

When the British Government detonated an atomic bomb with an explosive force of 25 kilotons off the north-west coast of Australia in October 1952, Roy Wright was 12 miles away.

Mr Wright, 76, says he was told to stand on the deck of his ship and face away from the blast – with no protective equipment provided. He now suffers redness, itching and swelling to his skin.

The Burwell resident, who has three grandchildren, is one of 800 servicemen and relatives who have lodged a claim at the High Court for unlimited compensation from the Ministry of Defence.

The veterans, who took part in nuclear weapons tests in the 1950s and 60s, claim the tests have caused cancer, skin problems, infertility and reduced life expectancy. The writ alleges that the children of some claimants have been born with missing or defective arms and legs.

Mr Wright told the Weekly News: "The claim is really for the Government to accept we were there.

"People have asked me why I volunteered. But when you are in the Navy, you do not volunteer for anything."

Mr Wright was on board HMS Campania when the bomb, codenamed Hurricane, was detonated on HMS Plym.

His case is backed by another Navy nuclear test veteran living in Burwell, Dave Wright, who is not related. Dave Wright served on board HMS Warrior as it maintained an exclusion zone in the Pacific for three nuclear tests at Malden Island in 1957.

Dave Wright will never forget seeing an atomic mushroom-cloud surge into the air.

He said: "First of all, a column went up and then it started to unfold on top. It was awe-inspiring to see the power behind it."

Though the 70 year old has suffered no health effects and is not a claimant in the court case, he has seen former colleagues suffer.

He said: "You get these idiots in the MoD saying the servicemen were in no danger. They have never been through it – they have never been 20 miles from an atomic bomb. These people doing press releases from the MoD were not even born then.

"We were servicemen – we did what we were told.

"Every other country has recognised its test veterans. This country is the only one which refuses to recognise that we were put in danger."

The claim from the Atomic Veterans' Group is expected to have its first hearing in January next year, but the case could last until 2012.

A spokeswoman for the MoD said: "When compensation claims are received, they are considered on the basis of whether or not the Ministry of Defence has a legal liability to pay compensation.

"Where there is a proven legal liability, compensation is paid."

Site metal theft

METAL thieves got away with lead and copper piping from houses on a building site.
The theft was carried out over a number of nights at the site in Bury Road, Kentford, near Newmarket. Lead was taken from the roofs and copper pipes were stolen from inside the houses under construction.
Anyone with information about the thefts, which happened between 5pm on Tuesday, May 22, and 7am on Friday, May 25, should call Pc Gary Miller at Newmarket police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

New book signing

TOP food writer Rose Prince will sign her new book at La Hogue Farm, Chippenham, near Newmarket, on Sunday. The book, the New English Table, features original "affordable" recipes using local and English ingredients. They include hot chestnut and honey soup, watercress and radish sauce for pasta and asparagus with pea shoots and mint.
She will be signing copies of the book at the award-winning farm shop between 11am and 1pm on Sunday.

Silver car stolen

A SILVER-COLOURED Vauxhall Omega, registration T423 UBL, has been stolen from Newmarket's Grosvenor Yard public car park.
It was taken between 9pm on Thursday, May 24, and 12.45am on Friday May 25.
Anyone with information can call Sgt Keith Grant at Newmarket police (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Fence erected to block travellers

BY John Goode and Jack Grove

Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

A CENTURIES-old open space is being fenced to discourage travellers from setting up camp there.

The wooden post and rail fence is being erected around The Severals, Newmarket's central green, where travellers camped for a week last year.

They were moved on when the town council and Jockey Club Estates, which each own part of the land, got court orders against them.

They returned about a month later but left after an hour when police warned them they could face prison and have their vehicles impounded for breaking the court order.

The green has been an open space for hundreds of years.

The fence, almost identical to fences bordering horse walks and horse gallops in the town, is costing around £4,000 and is being paid for jointly by the town council and Jockey Club Estates.

It is being put up on the Fordham Road and Bury Road sides of the green.

Cllr Bill Burch, Newmarket's mayor, said: "I was not initially in favour of the fence, but it is essential. It cost us £4,000 to remove them last time – we can't afford to do that time and again.

■ BARRIER . . . a fence is going up at The Severals to keep travellers out.

Picture: Richard Patterson 480683.

"People in Newmarket were also very unhappy about seeing these camps. Some even wanted to take the law into their own hands and kick them off themselves.

"The jockeys who use part of the land were not pleased about having caravans parked next to their horses. They thought the camp was a danger to their horses.

"Travellers are so well-protected by the law, we have to be very careful about what we do when they arrive.

"That's why we decided to build the fence. If they breach it, it means we can remove them more easily.

"It's only a single railing and there are spaces where people can access the green quite easily. The Severals is now a sports area with the pavilion on the way, so the fence will help give a surrounding to the pitch."

John Taylor, training ground manager at the Jockey Club, said: "We didn't want to do it, but we didn't want to see The Severals wrecked again."

Cricket matches are set to return to The Severals after a 40-year break once it is established as a multi-use sports area.

Fuel stolen

DIESEL was stolen from a lorry parked in a yard at Oaks Drive, Newmarket. Thieves forced the locked filler cap off and are believed to have left in the direction of the nearby Tesco store. Anyone with information about the incident, which happened between April 22, and the next day, should call Sgt Jo Garrard at the Newmarket North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Mower taken

A SIT-ON mower, worth more than £1,000, has been stolen from an unlocked garage. The yellow Stiga Villa 14 was stolen from the garage in North Street, Freckenham, between 7pm on April 20, and 7pm on April 23. Call the Iceni Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Illegal immigrants jailed for growing cannabis plants

TWO more Vietnamese "drug farmers" have been jailed and recommended for deportation.

Brothers Cuong Duc Pham, 18, and Phuc Duc Pham, 20, were arrested when police raided a house in Blackbird Road, Beck Row.

The pair, illegal immigrants, were sentenced to two years in prison at Ipswich Crown Court after they admitted illegally cultivating cannabis.

The court heard that police found nearly 370 plants in the house where professional hydroponic systems had been installed and the electricity meter had been by-passed.

Stephen Spence, prosecuting, said police raided the house on February 12 and found Phuc walking down the stairs and Cuong hiding in a small cupboard.

Joanne Eley, for Cuong, said he had come to Britain hoping to find a legal job. But he had been taken to the house and was told to look after the plants.

Judge John Holt recommended that the brothers should be deported when they are released.

New director at hospital trust

A HOSPITAL trust which runs out-patient services in Newmarket, Mildenhall and Haverhill has appointed a new non-executive director. Simon Chapman will hold the appointment to the board of the West Suffolk Hospitals Trust until March 31, 2012. Mr Chapman, 47, is currently an executive director of Liffe, which is one of the world's largest futures and options markets. He will be paid £5,875 a year for his hospital trust duties. The trust, based in Bury St Edmunds, has a turnover of £125 million and around 2,500 staff.

Schools ignore lessons on screening job applicants

SAFETY measures to prevent paedophiles and abusers working with children are being ignored by hundreds of schools.

An investigation by our sister paper, the Cambridge Evening News, has revealed one of the key recommendations of Sir Michael Bichard, who carried out an investigation into mistakes leading to the Soham murders, is being ignored across the region.

And after being informed of the security loophole, Sir Michael has called on the Government, councils and schools to "address this urgently".

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@stneotsweeklynews.co.uk

After Ian Huntley got a job working as caretaker at Soham Village College despite a string of serious sexual allegations against him, the Bichard Inquiry led to the National Council for School Leadership (NCSL) introducing recruitment training to prevent a repeat of the tragedy.

The Safer Recruitment programme, launched in 2005, teaches schools how to weed out potentially dangerous job applicants at interview, and it is recommended that headteachers and one governor from each school should complete it.

But figures obtained under the Freedom of Information Act reveal that nearly three years later, hundreds of schools around the region have failed to carry this out.

Some authorities have as few as 15 per cent of schools fully trained.

Sir Michael said: "Some authorities still seem not to be giving this a priority as the figures show, and the Department for Children, Schools and Families, local authorities and schools need to address this urgently.

"It is essential schools do have staff and governors properly training in Safer Recruitment because interviewing candidates remains an important way of identifying people who should not be working with children."

Councillor John Powley, who represents Soham, said: "This is very worrying. I would urge staff and governors to do everything they can to stop this sort of tragedy ever happening again. We must close every loophole."

One school in Cambridgeshire – Cherry Hinton Infant School – has no staff trained on the course at all, and 64 others have just one NCSL-trained interviewer.

But Cambridgeshire has by far the best Safer Recruitment training record in the region with 73 per cent of schools having two fully qualified interviewers.

Other authorities have as few as 15 per cent of schools with the full quota of NCSL-qualified staff – and neighbouring Norfolk has a massive 58 per cent of schools with no trained interviewers at all.

Hertfordshire and Essex county councils said they did not know how many schools had failed to meet the requirements.

Jim Paice, MP for Soham, said: "I am pleased that Cambridgeshire appears to be ahead of the rest of the East Anglian region on this, but worried that other local education authorities are failing to meet Sir Michael Bichard's recommendations.

"This is a key issue that all local education authorities should be addressing. I shall be pressing ministers to make sure that all schools meet the recommendations Sir Michael made after the Soham tragedy."

Huntley met his 10-year-old victims Holly Wells and Jessica Chapman while working at the village's secondary school. Huntley was convicted of their murder in 2003 and jailed for life – with a minimum tariff of 40 years.

Regarding Cherry Hinton Infant School's lack of any trained staff, a council spokesman said one trained member of staff had recently left, the acting headteacher was about to start the training online and another governor had now expressed an interest.

Gordon Jeyes, deputy chief executive of Cambridgeshire County Council, said: "We have put a lot of effort into pushing this training.

"The pick up was slow, but after a lot of relentless nagging we are pleased with the progress we have made.

"Sometimes 100 per cent is never going to be possible, because of things like staff turnover and governors standing down."

Hospice helpers host surprise party

VOLUNTEERS at a charity shop staged a surprise farewell for the shop manager.
Christa Oliver was leaving the St Nicholas Hospice shop in Newmarket High Street which she has run for the past nine years.
Wendy Parrish, one of the shop volunteers, said: "She was taken out for a coffee and while she was out all the available volunteers came in to the shop.
"It was a complete surprise to her.
"We've had a good relationship with her over the years and we just wanted to acknowledge how much we have enjoyed working with her."
Ms Oliver, who lives in Ely, has got a new job managing a fashion store in Cambridge's Grand Arcade.
The new manager of the St Nicholas Hospice shop, one of seven that raise around £250,000 a year towards the running costs of the Bury St Edmunds hospice, is Phyl Fisher.

Council moves to relocate O_2 mast

BY John Goode

Email: editorial@newmarketweeklynews.co.uk

PRESSURE is mounting on a phone company to move a mast it put up outside a school.

The mast, which has been compared to a drainpipe or a chimney, appeared in the street outside Newmarket College about three months ago.

Residents complained they were not consulted before the mast was put up on the pavement in Exning Road. Phone firm O_2 was able to legally erect it because it had not received a response from Forest Heath District Council planners within a 56-day time limit.

The council's planning head, Richard Watson, later apologised but said the situation was "irretrievable". However the district has now agreed to take "all necessary steps" to get the mast moved to a more suitable site and has offered to help O_2 find another location.

Local MP Richard Spring has also supported the bid to move the mast. He said: "Having previously campaigned to give local authorities greater powers over the erection of transmission masts I know how concerned people are about the possible health risks.

"The code of best practice drawn up by the Mobile Phone Operators Association and the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister is routinely ignored.

"All I ask for is accountability. The decision to erect a mast in a certain area should be taken by those people who are elected and accountable to the people living there. I will do all I can to ensure that local people get their voices heard, and that this mast is removed."

The district council accepted a recommendation from former Newmarket mayor Cllr Warwick Hirst asking for steps to be taken to have the mast moved to "a more appropriate place".

Cllr Geoffrey Jaggard, council leader, said: "A mistake was made by this council and we should do all we can to overcome this problem."

The council has already agreed to tighten up its procedures in a bid to prevent a similar problem happening in the future.

O_2 were unavailable for comment.

Illuminate patio for barbie larks

ADVERTISING FEATURE

WITH the first May Bank Holiday looming, many of us will be preparing to hold or attend our first barbecue of the season.

Now is the time to spruce up your patio in preparation for a summer of lazy evenings relaxing with a glass of wine in the fresh air and there's no better way to create an atmosphere then with some outside lighting.

Remember that a little light goes a long way at night, so don't over-light the area as extremely bright garden lighting often has a garish, unwelcoming look.

Instead, decide what features to light and to what intensity. Use lighting selectively, making use of the darkness and enhance the best elements at the same time as concealing the worst.

There are so many different lights on the market it's difficult to know what to choose, but if you have any borders around your patio, subtle solar lights within flowerbeds or along paths can create a relaxing mood, although they are unlikely to provide enough practical light to enable you to see your guests.

If you don't have a natural spot to place solar lights, you can buy patio umbrellas which are fitted with solar lights in the canvas, but remember that they will only provide a limited amount of light.

If you don't have easy access to electricity – and don't want to fork out for the cost of an electrician – there are loads of candle holders and oil lanterns available. For a splash of colour, place Weaver nest tea light holders in colours of aqua, fuchsia, olive or tangerine, on branches of overhanging trees (available from Fairwind www.fairwindonline.com or call 020 8374 6254).

The Bank Holiday weekend is the perfect time to get out in to the garden and do all those jobs which you've been meaning to do. If you haven't done so already the lawn will be ready for a mow and the varying weather – bursts of sunshine followed by spring showers – will mean that your borders and flower beds will be desperate for a thorough weeding.

■ GARDEN LIGHT . . . Gardman Luna stainless steel solar light (£12.99). For stockists phone (01406) 372227.

■ ILLUMINATING . . . Weaver nest tea light holders available from Fairwind, via www.fairwindonline.com or by phone on 020 8374 6254.

Actors' art

THE acclaimed West End show Art is coming to Soham.
The hit play by Yasmina Reza, which has been performed more than 2,500 times since it was first staged in 1997, will be staged by St Edmunds' Theatre Royal at The Comrades Club, in Soham, on May 15 at 8pm.
The show surrounds Serge, an art lover who amazes his friends by paying thousands of pounds for a plain white canvas. Their arguments over whether it can be considered "art" stretches their friendship to the limit.
The Theatre Royal production has been brought to Soham by ADeC's Arts Development on Tour.
Tickets are available from Soham Books, in High Street, Soham or by calling (01353) 723049.

Folk friends

A POPULAR folk night returns to Soham this week.
The Festival Folk evening will take place at the Cherry Tree, in Fordham Road, Soham, on Bank Holiday Monday at 8.30pm.
Presented by the Soham Festival Society, it will see sets by members of Ely's acclaimed Eel Pie folk band, while guests are invited to bring along their instruments and sing on the night.
A Red Rose folk session will also take place at The Pickerels, in Mepal, on Wednesday, May 14, at 9pm.
Call Graham Steward on (01353) 778655.

Nineties return in a 'Madchester' haze

THE heady days of Manchester's Haçienda club at its height comes to The Junction on Saturday.
The iconic home of the Madchester scene in the late 1980s and early 1990s was the hang out for some of the most influential indie bands, dance DJs and record producers of the era including New Order, Tony Wilson and the Happy Mondays.
The Official Hacienda Tour 2008 sees some of the musicians and DJs from the original club back together on stage again including Graeme Park, 808 State, A Guy Called Gerald and Bez from The Happy Mondays.
"The Haçienda broke down barriers," says Graeme Park. "Whether you were gay, straight, no matter what your ethnic origin was, whether you were an accountant or plumber, what your background was, everybody came together in what was this temple of worship. "When you were DJ'ing, it often felt like the crowd were the congregation and you were in the pulpit but instead of preaching sermons, you were playing banging house tunes."
The night runs from 10pm to 4am. Tickets are £12.
To book call (01223) 511511.

Cockney cheer for fifth charity festival

By John Goode

COCKNEY favourites Chas and Dave are among the acts lined up for the fifth annual FordhamFest which will raise money for Cam-Mind and the Teenage Cancer Trust.
Top bands from the 1960s and 70s including Hawkwind, Bad Manners, Dr Feelgood and The Beat are also on the bill for the four-day festival to be staged between August 7 and 10.
Angie Lee, one of the organisers speaking on behalf of MADS Promotions, said: "FordhamFest was put together to be a non-profit making, charitable event in aid of Cam-MIND which helps raise awareness of sufferers with mental health issues.
"We've worked with Cam-MIND every year since, as well as helping other charities. This year we'll also be supporting the Teenage Cancer Trust.
"We always get fantastic support from everyone in the local area, including the police, the council, the fire service and residents.
"Our aim has always been to give young, local and national artists the chance to play alongside established, big-name acts – and this regularly includes truly international artists."
The festival includes a range of activities for children and under 14s are admitted free – one per full paying adult.
Full ticket details and more of the line-up is available on the festival website at www.fordhammusicfestival.co.uk

your stars with Russell Grant

Aries Mar21 - Apr20

The pressure is back on over your daily duties. You may need to put in long hours at work, or cover for a sick colleague. Be sure to review any written materials before you send them out, including emails. People are extra sensitive this week.

Libra Sept24 - Oct23

It's possible you will be asked to work in relative obscurity. It just could be that this stint will lead to bigger and better things. A dividend, refund, or alimony payment could finally be awarded. Put it in a retirement fund, or use it to pay some bills.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Scorpio Oct24 - Nov22

You face fierce competition in the professional arena. But you'll be able to outperform all your rivals, if you stay healthy and rested. A good night's sleep will make all the difference between victory and defeat. Don't panic if you get a hefty bill.

Sagittarius Nov23 - Dec21

You're going to have to conduct yourself professionally if you're going to rise through the ranks. You've been blessed with wit, intelligence, and charm. That may not be enough to get the role you want. It's time to prove you can play by the rules, too.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Capricorn Dec22 - Jan20

Your drive may go through the stratosphere this week. If you're single, make a move on someone who tickles your fancy. If you already have a partner, arrange a romantic date. You'll have much more energy for the people and activities you love.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Aquarius Jan21 - Feb19

Changes are on the horizon with regard to your home. You could find a new place to live or a relative may join your household. Although you're not a big fan of change, this one will give a tremendous emotional lift. Make room for more love in your life.

To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Pisces Feb20 - Mar20

Your personal life is becoming a little more stable, much to your relief. It's nice to know you have people to lean on when times get tough. Don't be too stringent about the way your home is organised. The more flexible you are, the happier you will be.

THAXTED GUILDHALL
WELCOMES BURSLEM POTTERY
OVER
THE MAY BANK HOLIDAY WEEKEND 2008
Saturday 3rd May: 11.00am – 5.00pm
Sunday 4th May: 11.00am – 5.00pm
Monday 5th May: 11.00am – 5.00pm

With work dating back to its days as a Moorcroft company, Burslem Pottery will mount a selling exhibition of its iconic and grotesque birds, reptiles, animals and fish, with some fine decorative stoneware pieces using the sgraffito technique. Also in the exhibition is a display of colourful glaze effect work and some attractive and rare models including the Burslem Boy and the Burslem Lass. On show for the first time are Burslem Pottery's new and humorous cat models, Alley Cat, Cat Walk and Fat Cat.

THIS IS A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO SEE A BRITISH CERAMIC COMPANY DISPLAYING HAND-MADE POTTERY DESIGNED FOR BOTH PRESENT AND FUTURE GENERATIONS.

COME TO THAXTED WITH FRIENDS AND FAMILY AND MAKE A DAY OF IT!

A 3 Series with style

ADAM SWIFT

THINK "coupe" and images of a low and slinky muscled thing on performance-enhancing drugs come to mind.

Yet BMW has always taken a more softly, softly approach with its 3 Series Coupe, which has never shared any body panels with its saloon counterpart, but may as well have for all the visual distinctions that this made.

The new model is different though, because it is so much more of a looker than the frumpy saloon. If you are keen to order one, then I recommend the M Sport specification as seen here, which adds visual spice thanks to a body styling package, as well as dynamic verve from lowered sports suspension. Other M Sport goodies include 18-inch light alloy wheels, while inside are "M" tagged doorsills, alcantara-shod sports seats, a tactile short shift gearlever and a chunky steering wheel, both emblazoned with that magical "M" moniker.

All of this sporting pretension feels a little ill at ease in a car powered by a 2-litre diesel engine, and this sense of indiscretion lingers once you have slotted the key into the dash and then been compelled to press a separate starter button to fire things up. I mean please, in a diesel?

But first impressions can be quiet wrong. Take the Coupé for a drive and the M Sport labels and kit make much more sense. Power goes where it should, to the rear wheels, steering is excellent, and body control is outstanding. The suspension upgrades mean the ride height is lower by 15mm and progress is a little firm, but one of the most amazing things about this car is how well damped it feels. The resulting ride is surprisingly comfortable, and driving impressions are top notch, thanks to the talented chassis, which offers the most advanced suspension design in its class. Lift the bonnet and you will see how well set back the engine is, which no doubt contributes to the perfect 50:50 front/rear weight distribution.

■ THE 3 SERIES COUPE . . . perfectly balanced driving dynamics.

Although the 2-litre unit is the smallest diesel available in the Coupé range, it is a real testament to BMW's engine-making brilliance, offering an unusually high power output, oodles of torque, and impressively low CO2 emissions. In my care it averaged 45mpg.

The only real niggle is a gearbox that is obstructive, make changing through the gears a tad slow.

BASICALLY...

Understated styling means this Coupe doesn't need to shout about its attributes. Take it for a spin, however, and you will realise that there is a subterranean depth of ability waiting to be tapped into.

Audi's Q5 ready to battle rivals

■ PRACTICAL . . . Audi's crossover has enough practical solutions to cope with a family and safety in legendary Quattro system.

Sports utility crossover will take on the BMW X3

SMART, swish, and sporty, the new Audi Q5 is destined to do a lot more than add to the crush in the burgeoning family sports utility-crossover vehicle sectors.

Audi is very much the badge of the moment, with sales and brand loyalty on the up and still a long way off being on the crest of the wave.

The Q5's flowing lines and lower, more sporting, stance should quickly attract a strong following when it goes on sale in Britain later this year, and could even dent the market aspirations of the firm's new A4 range – the Q5's pricing won't be far removed from that of its popular saloon sibling.

One rival that will be watching its back when the Q5 arrives is the current crossover market leader, the Nissan Qashqai, whose seven-seater version, the Qashqai+2 arrives in the UK in October.

The Qashqai+2, at 4.52 metres long, is closer to the five-door Q5's dimensions, which stretches a little more to 4.63 metres in length.

Yet the new Audi has the longest wheelbase – at 2.81 metres – in this segment, which means a roomy cabin, albeit for only five adults. The Q5's seats are designed to be flexible, especially at the rear, where the backrests are angle-adjustable and easy to fold down via a remote release lever in the boot.

The cargo space itself has a second under-floor storage area, allowing basic load space to first expand to 540 litres before a flattening of the rear seats ups that to 1,560 litres.

Longer cargo can be accommodated by fitting options such as a slide-forward rear bench seat, and a front passenger seat with folding backrest.

The Audi Q5 will initially arrive with three engines, one 2.0-litre turbo petrol unit, and 2.0 and 3.0-litre turbo diesel engine choices. But that powerplant line-up could quickly change – Audi is noted for adding more powerful motors once demand for a range is established.

The four-cylinder 2.0-litre TFSI petrol unit sprints from 0 to 62mph in 7.2 seconds, can touch 138mph, and averages 33.2mpg on the official combined cycle.

The refined 2.0-litre turbo diesel has a combined cycle fuel consumption of 42.1mpg, can reach 62mph from standing in 9.5 seconds, and has a top speed of 126.76 mph.

The most powerful engine in the line-up, the 3.0-litre TDI, is a V6 diesel that delivers 237bhp to take the Audi Q5 from 0 to 62mph in 6.5 seconds, before accelerating away to a top speed of 139mph. The V6's thirst equates to a reasonable 36.6mpg on the combined cycle.

Six-speed manual and seven-speed automatic transmissions will be available, and the Q5 gets Audi's famed quattro four-wheel drive system as standard.

In normal conditions, 60 per cent of the engine power goes to the rear wheels for sporting, rear-focused driving enjoyment, but the transfer box can deliver up to 65 per cent of the power to the front axle, and a maximum of 85 per cent to the rear axle, when there is a demand for it.

Hi-tech fittings and options include cruise control, hill descent control, a parking system with rear-view camera, a lane departure warning system, and Audi's side assist, which warns of hazards when changing lanes.

Other buy-in items include tyre pressure monitoring, a panoramic glass sunroof with tilting function, triple-zone climate control, sun blinds for the rear side windows, adaptive cornering lights, and a powered, push-button tailgate as seen on the firm's bigger Q7 4x4.

3D satnav means true guidance

SATELLITE navigation takes a technological leap forward this week with the launch of the G280 and G800 from NDrive.

Boasting the world's first photo mapping system, the G280 and G800 feature real life photo images instead of the traditional 1D/3D maps found on other devices. The new G280 and G800 take navigation to the next level, allowing you to see what your journey and destination look like from a real life perspective. For the first time, see what your destination looks like before setting off!

This unique real life 3D photo mapping system features five different perspectives; four diagonal perspectives plus a bird's eye view. The intuitive system will automatically choose the best perspective for you while navigating. You can also choose a perspective manually.

The G280 and G800 feature visual and audible speed camera alerts as standard and both devices are supplied with UK and Ireland Tele Atlas Q1 2008 maps stored on an 8GB memory card. European maps are also available on plug-and-play memory cards and feature photo-mapping of major cities throughout Portugal, Spain, France and Italy.

With intuitive menus and touch screen buttons for easy finger input, the units are easy to install and use.

With a touch of the screen, both devices can operate in pedestrian mode and the inclusion of photo mapping makes navigating on foot a whole new experience. These devices provide a like-for-like perspective of the roads, buildings and landmarks.

Classically designed, trendsetters will appreciate the G280 and G800's looks and they will easily fit in a handbag or briefcase.

The units also feature a scratch-resistant, durable rubber casing, so that in the event of accidental knocks and bumps, there's great protection.

With support for audio, video and photos – all of which can be transferred via the SD card slot or USB and played back either via the built-in loudspeaker or listened to through earphones – the G280 and G800 are easy to use in various conditions.

The G800 also features Bluetooth functionality as well as an FM transmitter to play music and navigation instructions through the car stereo speakers.

■ GREAT LEAP FORWARD . . . NDrive's 3D satnav is a welcome development.

The launch of the G280 and G800 ushers in a whole new era of satnav – and it even mean drivers will notice when the guidance is asking them to cross a river!

The G800 is priced at £315, while the G280 costs £199.

DIY servicing is a dying motoring art

MEN no longer trust their DIY motor mechanic skills and are becoming DIFMs (Do It For Me) instead, says to a survey.

Only about 14 per cent of male drivers attempt to take care of under-the-bonnet problems, the Castrol poll found.

Rather than doing it themselves, three in four men are now relying on a professional for even the most basic care maintenance, the survey of 1,360 people showed.

With women, the number prepared to go down the DIY road is even smaller, with 87 per cent of female motorists seeking professional help or asking their partners to do their car maintenance.

The survey also found that more than half of motorists are unsure if they are using the right oil for their car.

Rob Stroud of Castrol said: "It seems that less and less modern-day males are able to look after their vehicles themselves.

"While past generations took pride in their cars and spent hours keeping them in tip-top condition, men appear more inclined now to pop to the garage or visit a drive-through car wash."

MOTORING

Drifting Dads in Caterhams

GIVE your Dad a Father's Day gift to remember by spending the day burning rubber sideways in a Caterham Seven.

The one-day Caterham Driving Experience (CDX) courses will put Dad behind the wheel of the legendary Caterham Seven where he'll be taught how to push the British sportscar to its limits in a relaxed and safe environment.

CDX days aren't just for wannabe racers, they appeal to anybody with a driving licence and a sense of fun! What could be better than thrashing somebody else's sportscar for the day with no guilty conscience?

Participants can mimic an F1 driver's tyre smoking antics through a Slalom or Drift course and get taught to use the rear wheels to steer, powersliding through the assembled bends and learning tricks like doing a doughnut.

At the end of the day, a test around a timed course adds a little friendly comp-etition to the event. Once the tyre smoke settles on what will be a memorable day, your Dad will be left with a certificate, new skills and possibly a trophy but certainly a broad smile across his face.

Days run throughout the year at venues like Brands Hatch, Cadwell Park, Castle Coombe, Elvington, Oulton Park and Silverstone. Vouchers cost from £99 to £399 and are available from www.caterham.co.uk or by calling (01883) 333700.

Insignia is Vauxhall's Mondeo challenger

VAUXHALL has released pictures of its latest mid-sized saloon, the Insignia.

For those who don't recognise the name or see the significance of this car, the Insignia is the replacement for the Vectra, one of the highest selling cars in the UK but one that has long been in the shadow of Ford's Mondeo.

Far sleeker and much more stylish than the current family saloon from Vauxhall, the Luton based company has chosen a new name for the model which will have its debut at the British Motor Show this July.

The Vauxhall is the latest in a line of new saloons that are trying to claim back some sales from the prestige markets bossed by BMW's 3 Series, the Audi A4 and Mercedes' C-Class. In recent history, large numbers of sales have been lost in the sector best known as the "rep-mobile" model. Ford's Mondeo, the Honda Accord, Mazda's 6 and Citroen's C5 are all, or are soon to be, on sale and all the newer models have raised the game significantly. The Insignia is the latest model coming to battle and Vauxhall intend to go the same way as the aforementioned mid-sized saloons and aim upmarket.

The distinction between family saloon and small-executive saloon is getting increasingly blurred and the Insignia's exterior styling clearly aspires to be classier than the Vectra. The interior too is likely to have all the bells and whistles to tempt back buyers to Vauxhall's traditional family car.

Interestingly, it has already been announced that a four-wheel drive model or two is set for production and, along with the VXR sub-brand, it doesn't stretch the imagination too far to see an equivalent of a BMW M3 in the future.

■ VAUXHALL INSIGNIA . . . a key new model for the Luton manufacturer and the company has high hopes.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 – SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A428 TRUNK ROAD
(ST. NEOTS BYPASS, CAMBRIDGESHIRE)
(TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 200

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport intends to make an Order on the A428 Trunk Road, St. Neots Bypass in Cambridgeshire to allow for essential maintenance work to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works would begin on or after Monday 19 May 2008 and last for approximately 5 days. The Order would come into force on 12 May 2008 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order would be -

(a) to prohibit vehicles from entering or proceeding in the A428 between its junctions with the B1043 Barford Road/Tesco Roundabout at Eynesbury and the B1428 Cambridge Road/Tithe Farm Roundabout at Wintringham, a distance of 3.1 kilometres, overnight, (8pm to 6am) from Monday 19 May, diverting eastbound vehicles via the A428 westbound, the A1, A14, and A1198 back onto the A428 and westbound vehicles vice versa; and

(b) close all laybys adjacent to both carriageways of the length of A428 described at (a) above for 24 hours daily from 6am on Tuesday 20 May for the duration of the works.

During the carriageway closures access to properties would be maintained at all times.

Traffic signs would indicate the extent of the speed restriction (which would not apply to emergency service vehicles), trunk road and layby closures (which would not apply to emergency service or works vehicles) and diversion routes.

bpha
building communities

bpha is a major housing association providing high quality housing and excellent customer service across central, southern and eastern England.

Community Development Officer

Salary: £20,203 - £22,127 per annum
30 hours per week + essential car user allowance

Shaping our communities – can you make a difference?

It takes a very special person to help shape a new community. We are looking for a highly motivated person, who can reach into all parts of the community, establish credibility and inspire confidence. You will network, negotiate and engage with people at all levels.

Your challenge will be to support the establishment of a cohesive community, promote participation in local affairs, encourage inclusion and fully engage with the new community being developed at Arbury Park, Cambridge.

You will work to integrate residents, interest groups and services and support local people to participate and address local concerns in their communities. It will also involve working to help the integration of the new community with the surrounding communities.

Working with a number of key organisations and developers on site, you will need to demonstrate the ability to work facilitatively with a range of communities, a commitment to community development principles and a strong sense of purpose.

Located in the heart of the new community, you will be part of bpha's large and successful Community Development Team based in Bedford.

This post is funded by the Arbury Park Consortium until December 2011.

Closing Date: Noon on Friday 16 May 2008.

For an information pack, please ring our recruitment line on 01234 221238 or email jobs@bpha.org.uk quoting job reference number NC24.

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd

Based in Burton-on-Trent

SENIOR REPORTER

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd, the area's leading group of newspapers and magazines, is seeking a reporter for its flagship daily title, the Burton Mail.

The successful applicant will be a proven all-rounder who appreciates the importance of the Mail's strong community links.

The Burton Mail continues to be the only reliable source of local news across East Staffordshire and South Derbyshire and by far the best read and most comprehensive paid for title in the area.

Far from resting on our laurels, however, we are continually striving to improve our coverage and are looking for an individual with the confidence and ability to rise to that challenge.

If you believe you are the person for the job, this could be your opportunity to get on board with one of the most vibrant and ambitious daily newspapers in the country.

To apply, write enclosing a full CV to:

Andy Parker, Deputy Editor (Content), Burton Mail, 65-68 High Street, Burton upon Trent DE14 1LE.

Closing date for applications is May 16th, 2008.

REPORTERS

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd, the area's leading group of newspapers and magazines, is seeking reporters for its weekly publication Your Leek Paper.

We are seeking a proven all-rounder, but newly-trained reporters will also be considered.

Leek is a vibrant town in the heart of Staffordshire Moorlands and we are looking for reporters to improve the coverage of this weekly newspaper.

For an application form contact:

Claire Booth on 01283 524885 or email: admin@burtonmail.co.uk

The closing date for applications is Friday, May 16th, 2008.

With this position we offer a competitive basic salary and 25 days annual holiday. Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and a subsidised health care plan.

We are a leading regional newspaper publisher and a member of Iliffe News & Media Limited. Our titles include the Burton Mail, Heartland Evening News, 6 weekly newspapers, a stable of magazines and a suite of websites.

Staffordshire Newspapers Ltd

It is the company's policy to employ the best qualified personnel and provide equal opportunity for the advancement of employees including promotion and training and not to discriminate against any person because of sex, race, pregnancy, disability, marital or family status, age, sexual orientation, religious beliefs or trade union memberships.

ROUND-UP

Pendleton upbeat for annual rally

CYCLING: The Mildenhall club's annual rally will again see some of the country's top riders flocking to the town. The event takes place at Riverside Middle School from August 23 to 25 and will include the final rounds of both the season-long national long and short distance grass-track racing leagues.
Co-organiser Max Pendleton said: "This means we should still attract the fastest of the sprinters and enduros to Mildenhall." There will be a full range of supporting races from noon each day with the first day's racing mainly featuring women and juveniles, while the last two days will involve junior and senior events.
An early-season cyclo-cross run on a Madison basis where teams of two ride alternate laps will also feature while there will also be duathlons for youngsters and adults, promoted in association with Newmarket Cycling & Triathlon Club. For the adventurous, the Suffolk branch of the Cyclists Touring Club is also re-introducing a 300km randonee ride to add to the regular 100 and 200km audax rides. For more information, go to www.mildenhallrally.org.uk or for a brochure send an SAE to Mildenhall Cycling Rally, 7 Jellicoe Place, Thetford, Norfolk, IP24 2JU.

Battle on the Heath

ATHLETICS: Stud and stable staff do battle again tonight (Thursday) on Newmarket Heath. The challenge, in aid of Racing Welfare, is part of the annual Newmarket Heath Run, a one-lap circuit – organised by Newmarket Joggers – which is open to everyone.
The racing industry clash was won by Sir Michael Stoute's team last year with Alix Choppin (Luca Cumani) and Robin Clifford (Darley) picking up the individual honours. The overall races were won by Paul Holley and Gen Godward with more than £1,000 raised.
Entry forms are available from Racing Welfare, Newmarket Leisure Centre, and the New Astley Club but entries will be taken until 6.45pm. There is a children's race at 7pm with the main event at 7.30pm.
■ In her first outing of the year, Joggers' Maxine Burgess illuminated the Blackpool Half-Marathon. She finished seventh in the women's race in 1hr 42min.

Reeves gets the nod

RUGBY UNION: Michael Reeves completed a successful promotion-winning campaign with Newmarket by being named player of the season. The utility back, who played in most positions except scrum-half and wing as Newmarket secured second spot in Eastern Counties Two, earned the top award at the club's annual prize-giving. Prop Lewis Smith was players' player of the year, newcomer of the year was centre David Fisher and most improved player of the year went to second-row Alistair Walker.

Aaron's the winner

FOOTBALL: Aaron Cawley took the Players' Player of the Year award when Isleham under-13s held their end-of-season presentation evening.
The manager's Player of the Year was Johnny Poole while the Match Award winner was Joe Stafford, who won five man-of-the-match awards during the season.
Chris Martin was leading scorer with 15 goals and there were special certificates for Cawley and Jack Leigh for playing every game, and for Will Ellis who played every position during the season. The rest of the team also got certificates.
There were also presentations to tea lady Linda Ellis and her helpers Andrea Leigh and Julie Poole; Andy Poole for doing most of the refereeing during the season, and for Daz Neal, who not only ran the line but was assistant manager.

YOUTH RUGBY

ST NEOTS MINIS FESTIVAL

UNDER-11

PLAYING superb rugby with commitment and flair, Newmarket took the honours in their age group.
They started with a 19-14 group win against Hitchin, Richard Phillips getting them off to a great start before the response had them tottering at 14-5. However, a Ben May try brought them back to 14-12 before Jack Barker won it on the last play of the game.
A resourceful Ely side were quelled 10-0 – Barker and Bob Challinor scoring – before Newmarket completed the group stages with a 7-0 defeat of St Neots, Barker scoring the crucial try to book a quarter-final tie against Cambridge.
Again the pack proved the dominant force in the 7-7 draw – May scoring – as Newmarket progressed because of their points difference.
A talented Olney side were knocked out 14-0 in the semi-final. Challinor and then Michael Bartram scoring the tries to put Newmarket into a tempestuous final against Bedford.
Although they shipped a try from the kick off, Newmarket persevered with their own skills-based game and Barker equalised only for the more physical Bedford to make it 14-7.
After a relentless assault, Jack Bowers scored an equalising try to make the final score 14-14, giving Newmarket the title because they had a better Fair Play record.

UNDER-EIGHT

NEWMARKET produced an outstanding performance at St Neots, reaching the final after winning three and drawing one of their games, and also winning the Fair Play Shield. Their path to a final showdown against Rushden started with a 15-15 draw against Hitchin, the strongest team in their pool, who launched a strong second-half comeback to level. Josh Dadds (2) and Sam McNaughton scored tries. Huntingdon, however, were swept aside 20-5 in the next match – Newmarket's tries coming from Joe May, Harry Robbins, McNaughton, and Tage McEwan Jonsson – but the youngsters needed a stiff talking to after a disappointing first half against Biggleswade, who led 5-0 at half time. They hit back with tries from McNaughton and Christie, and although Biggleswade levelled, McNaughton, Freddie Stokes and a May breakaway gave them a 25-10 win. The last pool game against hosts St Neots was tougher than the 30-0 scoreline suggested, Newmarket working hard for their tries from Dadds (2), May, McNaughton, McEwan-Jonsson and Robbins.
The Fair Play points accumulated gave Newmarket a place in the final after they finished level on points with Hitchin. However, the well-organised Rushden team – a good fast-passing side – quickly scored two tries and although Robbins, May and Will Christie replied, Newmarket, despite winning good turnover ball, slipped to a 20-15 defeat.

UNDER-NINE

A NINE-TRY blitz of Hitchin, – their best showing of the season – was Newmarket's entry to the competition. John Murray opened the scoring from a pushover followed by scores from Jack Nicholas, Drew Wiley, James Judd, and Millie Lee.
Lee started the second half with four sidesteps to score and the 45-0 romp was completed with tries from Michael Le (2) and Wiley.
For the second successive week they faced Ely, coming back twice to draw a tough match 10-10. Ely scored first but Joseph Girgis equalised and Le tied it up.
However, St Neots, who had won both their games, then beat Newmarket 5-0 in a tight game to send them into a quarter-final against Ely. That ended in another 10-10 draw although they were two tries adrift before Alex Taday and Wiley equalised. But thanks to their better record in the round-robin stages, Newmarket went through to a semi-final against Huntingdon, who subdued their gallant opponents 20-0.

UNDER-10

WITH what appeared to be a favourable draw, the Suffolk Motors-sponsored side got off to a good start, winning a close game against Hitchin 5-0.
However, they had to bounce back from a two-try deficit to draw 10-10 with Ely, changes at the restart leading to Nathan Chandler and Max McKrill levelling matters late in the game. But they ran out of steam losing 10-0 to St Neots in their final pool game and 15-0 to Huntingdon in a bruising quarter-final.

UNDER-12

NEWMARKET made it through to the quarter-finals, making their exit in their second game against Hitchin.
The first match, the opening pool game, ended 0-0 with Joe Stafford unlucky not to break the deadlock. However, Newmarket then accounted for Ely 28-7, Stafford and Daniel Bristow scoring two tries each, the former racing the length of the pitch to score his second. Oliver Green converted all four
A 14-0 defeat by St Neots could not prevent Newmarket reaching the last eight, where they fell by the same scoreline to Hitchin.

Fordham are foiled

HALF-centuries from Gavin Harding and Mark Abbott were not enough for Fordham to see off Abington, who held on for a draw in the Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League, Division Two clash.

Harding finished with 66, while Abbott made 51 in a Fordham total of 203 for 9, while Stuart Duquemin, Guy Ennew and David Hamper all picked up a couple of wickets each.

Ennew (38) and David Furlow (47) did their best to lead the Abington response, which ended on 163 for 8.

■ Ellis Frith produced the performance of the week in the Arab League, smashing the Marauders to an easy win over the Raiders.

Frith blasted 51 in 18 balls, hammering nine boundaries in a four-over blitz with Martin Coverdale which added 63. Joseph Turner then took 4 for 17 to put the skids under a reply in which only Jack Beaumont (25) performed with credit.

Warriors are top of the table after their second win, stands of 36 between Alex King and Alistair Kingdon, 35 between Alex Lack and Luke Du Plooy and 31 from Tom Jordan and Mark Diver in the final 24 balls paving the way to a 30-run win over Dragons.

Tom Curry gave the Dragons some early hope but Du Plooy took three wickets in his third over to sink them.

In the development games the MCC side proved too strong for the Arabs CC while the Arabs II beat College Heath School by three runs.

Redcar turn the screw as Tigers fade away

Mildenhall 40 Redcar 50
(Redcar win 103-80 on aggregate)

KNOCKOUT CUP, FIRST ROUND, SECOND LEG

MILDENHALL could not reproduce their previous night's form as they bowed out of the KO Cup at the hands of Redcar on Sunday. Faced with clawing back a 13-point deficit from the first leg, the Fen Tigers looked lacklustre in the early stages as the Teeside club raced ahead 16-8 after just four heats with their aggregate lead more than comfortable. With Kaj Laukkanen still nursing a shoulder injury and Robbie Kessler retiring twice with bike gremlins, it left the Bears' duo Ty Proctor and James Grieves to dominate with seven race wins between them.

Mildenhall – Laukkanen 13+1 (6 rides), Graversen 8 (6), Kessler 7 (5), Wright 5 (4), Loof 4+1 (5), Makinen 3+1 (4).
Redcar – Proctor 14 (6 rides), Grieves 13 (5), Giffard 7+1 (5), Havelock 6 (4), Auty 5 (5), Bugeja 5 (5).

PREMIER TROPHY

THE Tigers claimed local pride after they pulled off a stunning last-gasp victory against King's Lynn on Saturday.
The Fen Tigers clinched their first victory of the season and ended the Stars' hopes of Premier Trophy progression when Kaj Laukkanen and returning skipper Robbie Kessler sealed a final-heat maximum to complete an amazing comeback at West Row.
The rivals slugged out a thrilling derby contest in front of a packed crowd with the hosts coming from behind three times.
Debut-making Henning Loof said: "I was very nervous before the meeting but I got a good start in heat 10 to get my first win.
"The side has been struggling with team spirit but with Robbie back and myself in, we can all push each other on to do better."
Team manager Laurence Rogers said: "It was a cracking meeting and showed speedway entertainment at its best."
Mildenhall – Kessler 16 (6 rides), Laukkanen 11+2 (5), Wright 7 (5), Loof 6 (5), Graversen 5 (5), Makinen 1 (4).
King's Lynn – Topinka 11 (5 rides), Doolan 11 (5), Smith 7+2 (4), Harrison 5 (4), Tacey 4 (4), Lambert 3+2 (4), Oliver 3 (4).

Cheveley hope for home win

Racing by Peter Scargill

THIS weekend's Classics at Newmarket have been anticipated by all but maybe more so by those at Cheveley Park Stud, who own two of the leading fancies for the fillies' race, the 1000 Guineas.
Spacious and the impressive Nell Gwyn winner Infallible run in the stud's colours and both look set to have a major say in Sunday's race.
Managing director Chris Richardson said: "Both fillies would have a chance. Two bites at the apple is very sweet.
"It's a great thrill for all of us on the stud to be involved with two fillies like this, we can keep dreaming."
Cheveley Park were successful with the multiple-Group One winner Russian Rhythm in 2003, but a home-bred winner is what all at the stud crave.
Richardson said: "A home-bred winner would be very special. The good class fillies are the future; they will be producing the Classic runners for the future."
Anyone at the Rowley Mile on Nell Gwyn day could not have been more impressed by the way Infallible thrashed her rivals, a sentiment which is echoed by the owners.
"She couldn't have done it any easier," said Richardson about the daughter of Cheveley Park's flagship stallion, Pivotal. "We knew she was useful when she won at HQ last year."
As for Spacious, she finished her two-year-old campaign unbeaten after winning the May Hill Stakes at Doncaster and is on course for a return to action this weekend.
Richardson said: "Spacious is working well enough but is a bit behind in her coat. May 4 is early enough in the season."
After this weekend's race what lies in store for the two fillies – a shot at the Oaks perhaps?
"I think we'll have to wait and see," said Richardson. "Spacious might need a bit further, but we're unsure she'll stay the Oaks trip.
"Infallible could go for the Coronation Stakes. Our horses normally run well at Royal Ascot and it's a meeting Mr and Mrs Thompson (the stud owners) enjoy."
But Cheveley Park's armoury does not stop with these two fillies. They have an enviable group to represent them on the racetrack this year.
Among the stars are Pipedreamer, Cesare, Allegretto, Queen's Best and recent Kempton Listed winner, Heaven Sent.
Richardson said: "Heaven Sent might go for the Dahlia Stakes at Newmarket, stepping up from Listed to Group Three.
"Pipedreamer ran well last week and could make up into a very good horse and Cesare might run at Royal Ascot, he's probably just below Group One level."
However, Richardson seems particularly sweet on the Sir Michael Stoute-trained Queen's Best. He said: "Queen's Best could be the one to watch out for."

■ FOCUS OF ATTENTION . . . Infallible after victory in the Nell Gwyn. The filly carries the colours of the Cheveley Park Stud in the 1000 Guineas on Sunday.

Company KO'd for Guineas

GODOLPHIN'S 2000 Guineas options were whittled down to two on Tuesday after Fast Company was ruled out of Saturday's stanjamesuk.com Classic at Newmarket. Narrow runner-up to New Approach in last season's Dewhurst when trained by Brian Meehan, the Danehill Dancer colt was one of three possibles for Sheikh Mohammed's organisation with Ibn Khaldun and Rio De La Plata.
But in a statement a spokesman said: "Fast Company will not run in the English 2000 Guineas following a poor blood count which was taken at evening stables. All plans are now on hold "Fast Company holds entries in both the French 2000 Guineas and the Irish 2000 Guineas. A decision will be made at a later date with regard to his next intended run."
Ibn Khaldun is a definite starter for the 200th running of the Classic but Rio De La Plata had been expected to run in the French Guineas.

Olive muscles in

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

JOHN Olive's third goal in six games earned relegated Newmarket a point at Norwich United in their penultimate Premier Division game.

The striker is the Jockeys' leading scorer with 12 league goals this season, and his strike was enough to end their three-game losing streak.

And the draw has given Karl Johnson's men, who are two points ahead of bottom side Ipswich Wanderers, a chance of avoiding the wooden spoon.

The manager saw his troops fall behind in the first half, but a well-worked move resulted in Olive stealing in at the far post to put the visitors level before the break.

But the boss is confident of bouncing back next season and believes he can keep the nucleus of his squad together.

Johnson said: "We had most of the possession and we played some very good football and kept the ball for long periods but, in terms of chances, I think it was probably a fair result.

"All the players we've got want to stay, so we'll have a pretty strong squad next season. It's taken a long time to get this team together and I thought we'd be good enough to stay in the Premier but unfortunately we've run out of time."

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

JAMES Tatham scored his first league goal of the season as Mildenhall took another step towards securing fourth place.

The hosts got their reward for a bright start when he slid in at the near post and converted from a tight angle.

Dave Werthmann then saw his header cleared off the line but John Sands could have had a hat-trick as Mildenhall controlled the second half.

However, Mildenhall were denied their second win against Wroxham in a month when they were held to a 3-3 draw on Tuesday, the visitors equalising in the last minute.

Werthmann, Matty Robinson and Tatham again scored.

Mildenhall's final league match is at Dereham on Saturday.
